

public, which ridiculed the election of Cleveland. It is in the Democratic question and the Republican party. In an view of the proceed-Louisville convention changes in party alignment future. It ad-new party has come to of the opinion that it is, at least, be at the Democratic party, but result in the death of a new party.

Republic is a strong advocate of change. It declares emphatically that the repeal of the infamous act of 1873 was the main issue. This idea was combated by the place hunters of the Republican and Democratic party, and they appealed to the prejudices, not to the reason, of the masses of the people to sustain them. Over a million voters in the South and West, men who thought, for themselves, dissented, and a party which had no existence six months before the day of election carried six states, and its presidential candidates received votes in every state in the Union, while in four states one or the other of the old party candidates did not get a vote.

Now the able and influential St. Louis Republic virtually admits that the new party organized less than a year ago is the party of the immediate future, that its cardinal principle, the free and unlimited coinage of silver, is endorsed by a majority of congress, that the veto of a bill embodying that principle by the president will split the old parties wide open and bring the new party to the front with a majority of the people in its ranks.

WILL THE LAW BE ENFORCED?
For nearly a quarter of a century a majority of the people of the Pacific coast have been in favor of restricting Chinese immigration. It was asserted that the Chinese were more detrimental to the country than either free trade or protection. They monopolized positions in manufacturing establishments which white boys and girls could fill, and deprived thousands, so it was alleged, of the means of obtaining a livelihood. Finally congress, in compliance with the expressed wish of the people, passed an act to exclude them from the country. The highest court in the land has decided that congress has the constitutional right to enact such a law. Yet the constituted authorities, whose duty it is to execute the laws, make no effort to enforce its provisions. It is not desired that all the Chinese who have not registered should be deported, but the fact that no attempt is made to carry the law into effect is the cause of considerable comment, and the question now is, Will the Geary law be enforced? The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald telegraphs that paper that it will not, and he quotes Secretary Gresham as saying that the United States government is powerless to enforce the law because congress failed to appropriate sufficient money to carry out its provisions. "The Chinese exclusion act will, therefore, not be enforced," says the secretary of state, "and the administration has decided to pay no more attention to it whatever."

If the Herald correspondent is correct, the Chinese will not be disturbed and those who followed the advice of the six companies and refused to register will laugh at those of their countrymen who complied with the registration law.

It is strange, indeed, that the United States government is powerless to enforce a constitutional law in its own territory. It organized and equipped an army of 75,000 men to enforce the laws in 1861, though congress had not appropriated a dollar for the purpose, and if the ambition of the present administration is as has been reported, to emulate that of Lincoln, it should at least expend what funds are available in executing the law, and convene congress in special session to provide more money if necessary.

The largest gathering of women ever known was at the woman's congress in Chicago this week when 12,000 of the fair sex assembled. The general congress was held in three divisions and there were five department congresses in session. Delegates were present from every country in Europe, except Turkey, and half the languages of Europe were spoken in the addresses and discussions.

REPORTS received in Washington from internal revenue districts show that 3,400 Chinese registered under the Geary act. One district in Oregon in which 1,000 Chinese are said to have registered and two districts in California from which official returns had not been received on the 18th world, according to an estimate by the commissioner of internal revenue, make the total foot up nearly 9,000.

THE PRINCESS ARRIVES.

PRINCESS EULALIE.

Her Reception by the Officials at Washington.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Before the train bearing the Princess Eulalie and party started from Jersey City, a crowd of several hundred people had gathered. As the princess alighted from her carriage she might have passed for a typical young American matron, so far as dress and general appearance went. The crowd burst out in a genuine American cheer as she stepped upon the platform of the special car Wildwood and she gave a bright smile and bow of acknowledgement.

As the train rolled off the station the visitors gave their attention to its appointments. The luxuries of American railroad traveling was unknown to them and they were not backward in admitting their pleasure at the novelty of the trip. An elaborate course dinner was served on the train and so the time consumed in the run to Washington passed quickly and pleasantly. The royal train arrived in Washington at 8:40 to-night. An immense crowd of people gathered in the vicinity of the Pennsylvania railroad station, more than an hour before the train arrived. Attaches of the Spanish legation were on hand at 7 o'clock. The party also included Mrs. Curry, wife of the ex-minister to Spain. Soon after their coming four troops of United States cavalry under Colonel Henry, rode up and formed in a long line on the Sixth street side. Secretary Gresham and Assistant Secretary Quincy came shortly after the arrival of the cavalry in Gresham's carriage, followed by a handsome barouche, drawn by four magnificent bay horses. It was president Cleveland's carriage sent for the use of the princess. The president's coachman and footman were on the box. Other officials soon began to arrive. A double width of carpet was laid on the east side of the platform for the passage of the royal party from the train to the carriage. Then a detachment of police drove back all intruders from the station. When the train steamed in, the princess was the first to alight. Secretary Gresham pressed forward and Commander Davis presented him to the princess. The greeting over, Secretary Gresham offered his arm to the princess and preceded by Colonel Wilson and Mr. Parke, and followed by the Infanta's suite, walked down the carpeted platform to the carriage entrance of the station. The Infanta, Secretary Gresham, Minister Maragna and Prince Antonio entered the president's carriage. Six sergeants of cavalry acted as body guard to the princess, and following her carriage came the carriages containing the suite and members of the receiving party. The princess was well pleased at the manifestations of popular enthusiasm along the street and bowed graciously. It was 8:55 when the head of the column of troops turned off Pennsylvania avenue and came up to the hotel.

The princess alighted, and, taking the arm of Secretary Gresham and followed by her husband and the Spanish minister, entered the summer annex to the hotel, being greeted by a loud shout by the assembled crowd. Upon entering the house the princess passed into the reception-room, accompanied by Secretary Gresham and Assistant Secretary Quincy and her suite. A moment later the representatives of the government bade the party good night. Beautiful floral offerings from Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Curry and others were in the rooms.

To-morrow the princess will pay an official visit to President and Mrs. Cleveland. The program of the day beyond that is not agreed upon.

A Prospector Probably Killed.
Special to the JOURNAL.
FLAGSTAFF, A. T., May 19.—About three months ago E. W. Kilbourne, C. D. Fields and R. A. Ferguson left this place to prospect in the San Juan country. Six weeks ago while at Bluff city the party divided. Kilbourne and Ferguson started for the Elk mountains, and Fields left for this place. Kilbourne and Ferguson finally returned here, and they have anxiously awaited the coming of Fields. It is now believed that Fields was killed by the Navajoes, as friendly Indians say that a prospector was killed by a band of Navajoes about six weeks ago forty miles from Tuba city, and the animals and outfit they describe answer to that of Fields. Fields was from Boston, and his relatives live there.

Weather Forecast.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—The forecast for Nevada is occasional light rains in the northern and western portions and stationary temperature.

Called Upon the President.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The Presbyterian general assembly called at the White House in a body this afternoon. President and Mrs. Cleveland received the visitors in the east room. Dr. Craig, the moderator, was presented to the president by Dr. Bartlett, chairman of the committee of arrangements, and made a brief felicitous address, closing with an invitation to the president to attend the assembly. President Cleveland said in response:

"I assure you it affords me much personal gratification to meet on this occasion representatives of that great religious denomination which has done so much to make our people better and happier, and which is associated with so many tender and pleasing incidents of my individual experience. We still profess to be Christian people. This means no public officers of high or low degree should be unmindful of the restraints of religious sentiment. It means the religious teaching of our people should lead and exact from those who make and execute the laws a recognition of these restraints. You, therefore, will, I hope, permit me to say through you we do well to insist upon the conscientious discharge of official obligations and through you ought never to shrink from the exposure of official shortcomings, the contribution you owe toward accomplishing a good government will not be fully made unless you teach the people by precept and example that they will find safety and welfare in enforcing upon all public servants an observation of the mandates of Christianity and morality."

The visitors were presented by name to President and Mrs. Cleveland. They then strolled through the parlors and conservatories and afterward took their departure.

The World's Fair.

Special to the JOURNAL.

CHICAGO, May 19.—There was no special attraction at the world's fair grounds to-day, but the weather was bright and warm and throngs of people took advantage of the fact to visit the grounds.

This afternoon the president of the board of lady managers and the state vice-presidents held a reception in honor of the distinguished women in attendance at the woman's congress.

When the national commission assembled, the judiciary committee, which has the question of Sunday opening under consideration, announced that it would be ready to report this afternoon. This was objected to by some members of the committee, and the matter was finally put over till Monday.

A communication was received from President Higinbotham of the local directory refusing to enter into an informal conference concerning the resignation of Theodore Thomas, Musical Director, but saying that he would be pleased to have a formal one.

Arrival of More Chinese.

By Associated Press.

PORTLAND, Or., May 19.—The British steamer Danube, which arrived here from Victoria this morning with 500 Chinese on board, is still anchored in the river below the city. She has not yet entered at the custom-house. The vessel has a clean bill of health. It is stated that most of the Chinese certificates are forged ones. The custom-house officials will probably begin an examination this afternoon.

The steamer Haytian Republic is expected to arrive here this afternoon from Victoria. She brings about 100 Chinese and Japanese. The Chinese are those who were brought here recently by the Danube. They were refused a landing and returned to Victoria. They are now making a second attempt.

Be Succeeded.

ST. PAUL, May 19.—This afternoon a man in a carriage drove onto the High bridge and handed a boy a card bearing this address: "Charles S. Rogers, President Northwestern Cordage Company, 419 Grove street, St. Paul." Then he asked the boy to take care of his horse and carriage, and, without further remarks, threw himself headlong into the stream 100 feet below. The suicide is supposed to be the Mr. Rogers whose name appeared on the card. No reason is known for the suicide.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs. Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative, effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches, and all forms of nervous and permanent constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance. Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

The Government Will Pay All Expenses.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—"The government will pay all bills presented for the entertainment of Duke Veragua." This statement was made by Secretary Gresham this afternoon in answer to inquiries whether bills sent to the state department for money expended in entertaining the duke in Chicago would be allowed. Congress authorized the secretary of state to provide for the entertainment of the duke and suite while in the United States, and, while no appropriation was made for the purpose, Secretary Gresham cannot overlook the expressed instructions of congress in the matter.

As the Infanta Eulalie comes also in the capacity of the nation's guest her entertainment will be provided by the government in all matters except where cities or states voluntarily defray the expenses within their borders.

Faith of Their Own Weight.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Secretary Carlisle said this morning, speaking of the failure of so many national banks, that they were evidently in a bad condition and failed of their own weight without any connection whatever with the general financial condition of the country. Comptroller Eddles said without exception the reports from the failed banks showed their officers engaged in outside business or speculation and used the funds or credit of the bank for individual purposes.

FOSTER'S FORECAST.

The Rainbelt Moving South—The Molten Earth Theory—The Atlantic Equator. Copyrighted 1893 by W. T. Foster.

St. Louis, Mo., May 19.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of a storm wave to cross the continent from the 21st to the 25th, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 25th, cross the western mountains by the close of the 26th, the great central valleys from the 27th to the 29th and the eastern states about the 30th.

This storm will cause general rains and the rain belt will move farther to the south, while rainfall will decrease in many places in northern latitudes.

A warm wave will cross the western mountains about the 25th, the great central valleys about the 27th and the eastern states about the 29th.

The cool wave will cross the western mountains about the 28th, the great central valleys about the 31st and the eastern states about June 2d.

ANCIENT FLOODS.

In discussing floods and geologic formations of the earth, we cannot avoid the questions: How came such vast quantities of water in the upper firmament? How came the matter in the water which now forms the stratified rocks? All the waters of the oceans must have been suspended in or above our atmosphere and all the matter now in the stratified rocks must have been in the waters of the oceans just as salt and lime are now contained in ocean waters.

If it were not for the sudden and universal changes in the extent of the oceans in the minerals they contained and in the animal life they sustained, our best evidences of ancient floods would be wanting.

Prof. Vail, who claims to have invented the Saturn ring theory as the origin of our ancient floods, bases his theory on the dark ages idea, that our earth was originally a molten mass and that from this cause the minerals and waters were suspended in the upper atmosphere of the earth and fell as the earth cooled. This is a very pretty theory until closely examined, when it vanishes into thin air.

THIS BURNING EARTH THEORY.

Points to the Aztec rocks, the very oldest maintained by geologists, as evidence of the former molten condition of the earth. But these Aztec rocks give two positive proofs that the earth was not molten not even hot. These Aztec rocks show the evidences of great heat on the outside and not in the lower strata, and therefore the heat that scorched them came from the outside and the earth was not molten. The Aztec rocks are stratified, therefore they were laid down in water and as there could not be oceans of water on a molten earth, therefore the earth was not a molten mass. Prof. Vail, speaking of his ring theory, says, "Our formation is the molten igneous." As geologists are abandoning that theory, Prof. Vail must find a new foundation.

WHEN DRY LAND APPEARED.

One great epoch in geology is found between the Devonian and Carboniferous ages. At that point dry land appeared according to the geologic record. Fishes appear to have been the only inhabitants of the earth during that Devonian age and the whole surface of the earth appears to have been covered with water. I do not believe it. Geologists have misinterpreted the record. It is more reasonable to claim that the dry lands and oceans of the Devonian age changed places at the beginning of the Carboniferous age. This change would destroy the land animals and not the sea animals, and as a few fossils of land animals are found at the close of the Devonian, it is evidence touching this theory. Geologists say that the mountain limestone formed in the deepest oceans, but now this limestone is found in our highest mountains. Evidences are vastly numerous that at that time—between the Devonian and the Carboniferous ages—the axis of the earth was suddenly changed. This would cause what geologists called a great flood, and was one of the numerous great floods recorded in the geologic record.

THE ANCIENT EQUATOR.

Draw a line from Santiago, in South America, to the western extremity of the Aleutian islands, south of Bering's sea, and from the cape of Good Hope, southern Africa, through the northern part of the Japanese Empire, and you will have the ancient equator of the earth. No other theory will account for the mountain ranges of the world, no other will explain why the rivers of the world empty nine-tenths of all fresh water, into the smaller of the great oceans, the Atlantic, no other will account for the remains of tropical plants and animals now found all around the earth, even in the remote north, along the line I have designated as the earth's ancient equator. It is the only theory that will account for the submergence of the great Atlantis continent which now lies under the waters between New Foundland and Europe and the greater continent now covered by the Pacific ocean. A theory that will account for these important facts and their mysterious causes is worthy of careful consideration.

WHAT CHANGED THE EARTH'S AXIS.

Geologists declare that some great force caused immense waves to proceed from the north, overwhelming the continent of Europe, destroying all life, and that the force which brought the drift clays came from the same direction. Similar evidences are found on the North American continent. If the ancient equator was along the line I have designated, the force would have been from the northeast while the earth was then revolving toward what was then the east, but now

A SAD CASE.

The Wife of R. C. Chambers of the Ontario Mine Missing.

R. C. Chambers, superintendent of the celebrated Ontario mine at Park City, U. T., is in San Francisco in answer to a summons of his friends, who telegraphed him that his wife, who was under medical treatment in the city, had mysteriously disappeared. Mr. Chambers is well known to many Nevadans, and the circumstances incident to his wife's disappearance are as follows:

"During November a year ago," said he, "my wife became a sufferer from insomnia, and as it grew upon her under the usual remedies, I took her to Salt Lake city for treatment and a change of climate. Failing to get the relief desired we returned to San Francisco. By this time she was almost a nervous wreck, and, as a result, was suffering from hallucinations at times. I placed her in the care of Dr. Hirschfelder. The doctor in turn placed her in a sanitarium, and by March she had so greatly improved that we concluded to remove her to Palermo, where we have a summer residence.

"She was accompanied by two lady friends and a couple of nurses. A marked improvement followed her arrival in the country, and on May 6th the party and myself all returned to our residence on Sacramento street. She seemed contented, and in periods when her derangement would return temporarily she declared that she would live forever, and bemoaned her fate in causing us much imaginary trouble. Last Sunday she went riding with her nieces early in the day, and when invited to take a walk about noon she cheerfully consented. Her nieces waited in the parlor while she went to her apartments to secure her wraps. Her long stay caused them to go to her room, which they found vacant. The house was thoroughly searched, but she had gone and covered up all traces of her destination. Her purse and valuables were all left behind, and from what I can learn she certainly did not have a cent when she left home. My wife never threatened suicide, and her home life she always declared to be most happy previous to her mind becoming clouded.

"A search was immediately instituted by my friends, and on their search proving unsuccessful they notified the police and put Morse detectives to work on the case. The same evening the news was telegraphed to me. I think Mrs. Chambers must have made her way to the country, but not very far, as she had no money with her. Unless she has met with some accident she is alive."

Mrs. Chambers is 44 years old, 5 feet 3 inches in height, slender in form and hair slightly tinged with gray. When she disappeared she wore a dark coat with cape, a dress made from a brown material and a dark straw hat trimmed with a plaid ribbon.

W. B. Eckart on the Comstock.

W. B. Eckart, the engineer employed by the mining committee to report as to the feasibility of pumping out the lower levels of the Comstock mines, arrived from San Francisco this morning. Mr. Eckart has not yet completed his report, and the gentleman's visit at this time is to secure more data necessary to complete his work. Mr. Eckart will remain here several days. He paid a visit to the Combination shaft this afternoon.—Chronicle.

License Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the office of the city license collector, until further notice, will be at the office of T. V. Julien on Virginia street in Reno.

Ex-officio City License Collector.
May 16th.

Grand Lodge Representatives.

Amity Lodge, No. 8, K. of P., has elected the following past chancellors as representatives to the grand lodge which meets at Virginia city on June 9th: H. J. Thyes, W. H. Noyes, B. M. Coffin, J. O. Sessions, C. A. Jones, L. J. Cohn, N. W. Roff.

A full line of Ferry & Co's seeds at W. Piniger's drug store.

Handsome Iron Fronts.

Jno. Michael, proprietor of the Union Iron Works, is casting an iron front for the new building which is being erected on Second street by Clough and Crosby. Yesterday the sills and corner pilasters were delivered at the building and are being placed in position. The patterns were made according to the plans of Mr. Michael and are quite ornamental.

Fronts for the buildings of J. E. Shannon and P. Saturno, which are being erected on Virginia street, are also being made at the iron works, and are modeled after those of the Powning building, which adjoins the new buildings.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned hereby tenders his sincere thanks to the many kind friends and the public generally for the kindly attention shown him during her last illness and the assistance rendered and sympathy tendered him in his bereavement.

ONE LEGGED BICYCLE RIDER.

He Arrives in Reno on His Way to New York.

Frank S. Beedleson, the one legged bicycle rider, of whom mention was made in a previous issue of the JOURNAL, arrived in Reno yesterday afternoon at about 4:30 o'clock. Word was telegraphed here that Mr. Beedleson had left Verdi at 3:15 and Chas. Nash and A. C. Helmold went out on the road about two miles to meet him and escorted him into town.

The bicyclist is en route from San Francisco to New York and is given 100 days in which to make the trip. He is a representative of the Athlete, a paper published at Syracuse, N. Y., and to which journal he furnished a detailed account of his trip. He left San Francisco on Monday last at 10 o'clock A. M. making Tracy, a distance of 65 miles by night. Tuesday he made Sacramento, 76 miles; Wednesday, Auburn, 36 miles; Thursday he made Chico on his wheel, 56 miles, and took the train from there to Truckee, owing to dangerous roads. Yesterday he made the trip from Truckee here, arriving as above stated at 4:30 o'clock. He looks none the worse for his trip thus far, and is about three days ahead of schedule time. He rides a Stearns wheel, with G & J. tires and rides between the rails on the railroad track.

Mr. Beedleson will resume his journey eastward this morning, leaving here about 7:30 o'clock and expects to make hot Springs by night. A number of our local wheelmen will accompany him a short distance.

Official Visitation.

Grand Chancellor T. R. Hofer, accompanied by Knights J. T. Jones, L. L. Elrod, J. P. Meder, Hume Yerington and Charles Colburn, came down from Carson last evening on an official visit to Amity Lodge, No. 8, K. of P. A number of members of Amity Lodge were at the train to meet the visitors and escorted them to the hall, where the grand chancellor was greeted with knightly courtesy. Speeches were made by several members of the order and responded to by the grand chancellor. A banquet in honor of the visitors at the Palace restaurant closed the festivities of the evening.
